

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to make their stations air any documentary which has politically slanted views days before the election is a clear example of misuse the of the media and of media consolidation.

Sinclair and all media outlets are obligated by law to serve the public interest. Their monopoly is more interested in promoting a candidate who will serve their interests than one who will serve the greater democratic good.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
